

Blended

Intensive Program

Democracy, Environment, and the Human Nature: Philosophical Perspectives

29/05 to 02/06/2023

University of Coimbra
Faculty of Arts and Humanities

Keynote Speakers

Klaus Vieweg

(Friedrich-Schiller-Universität Jena)

Michael Tomasello

(Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology,
Leipzig; Duke University)

Gilles Marmasse

(Université de Poitiers)

Lectures by:

Alexandre Sá (University of Coimbra)

Alexandru Tofan (University of Iasi)

Alexis Coukier (Université de Poitiers)

Diogo Ferrer (University of Coimbra)

Luís Umbelino (University of Coimbra)

Reynner Franco (Universidad de Salamanca)

Tommaso Piazza (Università degli Studi di Pavia)

Applications until 10 February 2023

Enrolment and contact:

Dra. Sofia Jesus

sofia.jesus@uc.pt

Blended

Intensive Program

Democracy, Environment, and the Human Nature: Philosophical Perspectives

The University of Coimbra and EC2U partners organizes a Blended Intensive Program with the theme Democracy, Environment and the Human Nature: Philosophical Perspectives for PhD and Master students.

For one week, with specialists from different universities, master students will participate in intensive discussions of selected issues relating human beings' self-understanding, their political organization, and natural environment. Articulating systematic contemporary questions with their conceptual and historical-philosophical bases, the seminars, colloquia, and lectures will study and discuss the interactions between Democracy, Environment and the Human Nature.

University of Coimbra
Faculty of Arts and Humanities

29/05 to 02/06/2023

Applications until 10 February 2023

About EC2U

Enrolment and contact:

Dra. Sofia Jesus
sofia.jesus@uc.pt

Department of Philosophy, Communication, and Information
International Relations Unit